

To do this, he goes for a walk to help keep him focussed. Would walking work for you, in your current circumstances? If not, what else could you do to carve out time for God that is as distraction-free as possible, and will keep you alert?

Nicky explains how often, during his morning prayer walks, ideas will come to mind. He believes this is how the Holy Spirit guides our thinking and decision-making, and that we're to exercise and apply the common sense He's given us. Have you experienced God's guidance in this way? Can you think of a time when you were praying for wisdom or a way through, and something you'd never considered popped into your thoughts?

Nicky talks about the power of humility and teachability, and the tremendous value of committed connections with friends and mentors as we listen for what God is saying to us. Do you agree that seeking God in community takes humility? Why or why not? Do you chat through challenges with friends on a regular basis? How has praying with other believers changed the outcome of a situation in your life?

Nicky also talks about submitting to God's guidance by patiently watching Him sovereignly work out circumstances. Have you experienced the leading of God through the closing of one door, or the opening of another?

Nicky asserts that the ordeal of a global pandemic has created the greatest opportunity in his lifetime for the church, which has significantly grown its digital
